WHAT IS THE MOSAIC PROJECT?

The Mosaic Project improves awareness and understanding of neurodiversity in the field of law. We want to share the stories and experiences of neurodiverse individuals who contribute to the field of law through their unique insights and approaches.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

You may choose to sit for a traditional interview, a podcast-style interview, or a video interview.

MAY I PARTICIPATE ANONYMOUSLY?

You may opt to share your name or remain anonymous. The goal of The Mosaic Project is to personalize the neurodiverse experience, especially as it relates to the legal profession.

WHAT KIND OF QUESTIONS
SHOULD I EXPECT?

We want to help you tell your story. Here are some sample questions:

- How has your neurodiverse condition(s) impacted your work life? How has it made work easier? How has it made work harder?
- What advice would you offer others with the same condition?
- What advice would you offer allies?

HOW DO I GET STARTED?

Contact me at lovita.tandy@lawrencebundy.com or 404-400-3337, and we will set up your interview.

Thank you for supporting this project and passing this along to a neurodiverse colleague or friend.

Lovita Tandy leads The Mosaic Project. She has practiced employment law for more than 25 years and is a staunch advocate for DEIB. Her commitment to advancing neurodiversity in the workplace was sparked by her time as the head of a large global law firm's DEIB efforts, her work as an DEIB trainer and consultant, and her decades-long journey supporting neurodiverse family members. The Project is sponsored and funded by Lawrence & Bundy where she is a partner.
